

INTERPRETING AND TRANSLATION STUDIES, MA

Degree Requirements

Interpreting and Translation Studies: Spanish-English, Interpreting and Translation Studies: Chinese-English, Intercultural Services in Healthcare, and Teaching of Interpreting are intense two-semester programs, where students in each track are required to complete a minimum of 27 credit hours of course instruction, 3 credit hours of internship, and a 6 credit hour applied research project. None of the 27 credit hours of course instruction may be taken Pass/Fail unless they are offered only on that basis.

At the end of each student's program of study, the applied research project will be presented to the graduate committee. The primary members of the applied research project committee are the program faculty, but a student may include an approved committee member from outside of the program.
